

CHALFANT SAYS HIGHER QUALITY KEY TO FUTURE FARM SUCCESS

Further improvement of the high quality of farm and orchard products that was achieved by Adams county farmers during the war years was urged as a post-war objective for the county's agriculture by Floyd Chalfant, secretary of the state Department of Commerce, at the Gettysburg Lions' club Farmers' Night dinner meeting in the Marine restaurant Monday evening.

Declaring that atomic age science soon will bring revolutionary changes in many phases of the nation's agriculture, the Commerce head advocated serious attention to lower costs of production so that Adams county farmers can meet competition that is bound to come from low-cost producing areas in the post-war years. He urged "vertical" production of more from less acreage and less manpower as against "horizontal" production of the same amounts from large acreages and more work.

Mr. Chalfant held that Adams county farmers can best meet keen competition in the future by improving the quality and freshness of their produce in the market. "Change our wartime slogan of 'get their first with the best' to 'get their first with the best,'" he urged.

Lands Wartime Record
He stressed the importance of the current conservation program in the state and pointed to the need for reclaiming soil for certain crops. "The overall objective of our land use program should be to conserve the land now in farms and forests and to find profitable uses for the two to four million acres of idle and non-productive land in our state," he declared.

Adams county farmers were congratulated on their production record. (Please Turn to Page 5)

PUBLIC COMFORT STATION URGED BY "YW" BOARD

The board of directors of the Gettysburg YWCA added their voices Monday afternoon to the clamor for the construction of public toilets in Gettysburg by directing their secretary to write the Gettysburg borough council on the subject.

The "Y" directors declared that toilet facilities at the "Y" building are "totally inadequate" for the heavy use to which they are subjected by the public. A count was made on a typical Saturday evening and it was found that 150 persons used the second floor toilet in the building where low water pressure adds to the difficulties.

The excessive use of the "Y" toilets at the association building is a constant source of "trouble and expense" to the YWCA, board members said. They will urge the borough council to follow the inauspicious recommendation of Burgess C. A. Heiges for the establishment of public toilet facilities in the center of town.

Plan Annual Meeting
The matter was brought before the "Y" directors by Mrs. Wayne Keet, house committee chairman. Plans for the annual membership meeting March 28 were discussed by the board. Mrs. R. R. Gresh was designated to represent the YWCA on the Adams County Welfare committee and Mrs. A. R. Wentz, the "Y" president, will be the board's representative to the Gettysburg Council of Church Women. Plans for the YWCA convention at Atlantic City March 3-8 were announced and plans for local representation discussed.

The board pointed out the necessity of advance arrangements with the "Y" office by groups wishing to use the building for meetings. Mrs. Florence Grindler was commended for her services as office secretary by the board. Standing committees and board officers submitted monthly reports and "Y" organizations presented activity reports. Mrs. Wentz presided and Miss Sara Jane Maust led the devotional period.

Milk Tester Being Sought For County

County Agent M. T. Hartman today was seeking Adams countyans who may wish to become milk testers in order that they may take advantage of a short course for men and women to be held February 27 to March 13 at Pennsylvania State college.

The duties of a tester include weighing and testing for butterfat each cow's milk for one day, computing the production and feed cost for each cow and for the herd. Anyone who can work simple problems in arithmetic and interested in dairy herd improvement is eligible for this work.

The tester is paid a standard wage set by the association. He spends one day per month at each member's farm and has the privilege of boarding with the dairyman.

The cost of taking the short course is very little more than room and board. Adams county is among a number needing testers, Mr. Hartman said.

The affidavits were taken for use at inquests into the four deaths in case the two men are not able to return to Gettysburg for the coroner's investigations.

Photographer And Minister Prepare New Lincoln Book

A prize winning photographer and a Gettysburg college graduate now a Lutheran minister and radio commentator are combining on a new book about Abraham Lincoln.

John J. Loughlin, Troy, New York, who has become one of America's top prize winning amateur photographers with photographs of Lincoln, will supply the pictures for the book which Dr. Alford R. Nauss is writing. The Rev. Dr. Nauss is a graduate of Gettysburg college with the class of 1923.

The photographic work of Mr. Loughlin is performed with a small box camera which he purchased 25 years ago for one dollar. Even when his photograph of a Lincoln statue, entitled, "With Malice Toward None" took first prize in an exhibition at the World's Fair and he was offered his choice of photographic equipment he selected a tripod for the little camera and declined an expensive new model.

Now steward at the Chemists club of New York, he spends his vacation taking pictures in cities famous for Lincoln memorials. Two of his pictures representing the beginning and end of Lincoln's political career have been widely displayed. The one picture, taken of a statue at Prospect park, Brooklyn, shows Lincoln as eager and hopeful in his youth. The other is a portrait of the bust of Lincoln in Gettysburg. The first picture is titled, "The Futurist." The picture taken here is named, "He is Now With the Ages," and shows the president as an older person, philosophical, with his head bowed with disappointment over the intolerance of mankind.

Another of his pictures is of the Lincoln memorial in Washington, acclaimed by some critics as being one of the best photographs of the huge figure seated, within the memorials in the foreground.

Police Tab 12 Motorists In Vain; It's A Holiday

Gettysburg borough police, continuing their duties of making parking meter violators aware that the meters were put there for a definite purpose started out early this morning tagging those motorists who failed to "feed" the boxes. Twelve tickets in all had been placed by Borough Officer Albert Wolford when phones began ringing in borough offices and irate motorists started to besiege the office.

All wanted to know—"What is a holiday?" The marker on the parking meters say they are inoperative on Sundays and holidays.

Borough treasurer John H. Baschore, recalling that the day is Lincoln's birthday, a legal holiday in Pennsylvania and a number of other states, told those who reported to him to pay the $1 fines that the ticket was out of order and that there was no fine. In the meantime he tried to contact the borough police. Burgess C. A. Heiges also called the police.

But the borough police had already discovered the mistake. Said Officer Wolford: "I only put out 12 tickets but so far it seems like 112 people have been to see me about it."

Neighbors of one local resident, who they claim has consistently violated the meter rules, were saddened by the ruling. This morning for the first time the alleged violator was caught and presented with a ticket.

Local banks and the court house offices were closed for the holiday while the post office continued its regular schedule for the day.

15 Million Affected By Strike Of 16,800 Workers

(By The Associated Press)
Nearly 15,000,000 Americans were caught today in the grip of strikes more crippling than any wartime emergencies.

The strikes, involving directly only 16,800 employees but affecting more than one tenth of the nation's population, had these effects:

1. New York city, where 3,500 AFL tugboat workers struck nine days, was paralyzed by an unprecedented business and amusement shutdown. Police Commissioner Arthur W. Wallander said a disaster control board of 22 city department heads was "the governing body of the city as much as if we were in military circumstances and we were being governed by military law."

Mayor William O'Dwyer, in a move to conserve fuel, ordered the closing of all industrial, business and amusement activities. Permission was granted only to continue operation of such essential services as hospitals, transit, newspapers, news services, radio stations, communication services and restaurants.

2. A strike of 3,400 employees of the Duquesne Light company in Pittsburgh was called early today and state of emergency declared, but electrical current was still flowing several hours later to thousands of homes and buildings in the strike area in which 1,500,000 persons reside. Company officials said service could be continued to homes and institutions if householders limited their consumption to emergency needs.

However, an estimated one half of the large business buildings and some hotels in Pittsburgh's business district were without heat, and downtown department stores were closed. Many business firms suspended operations and business activity was reduced to a minimum.

At Washington, Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said President Truman does not now plan to seize the power plants.

3. A strike of 9,900 transit workers entered its second day in Philadelphia although federal conciliators held out hope for settlement. The work rush hour brought another avalanche of packed automobiles and trucks, jammed trains and long distance walks, but the stampede was less serious than yesterday's worst traffic snarl in the city's history. Officials estimated 95 per cent of the city's 800,000 workers managed to reach their jobs in factories, stores and offices the first day of the walkout.

LINCOLN TALK DELIVERED BY JOHN LIPPY, JR.

Hanging in the halls of Oxford college in England is a copy of a brief speech which the officials of that college consider the finest thing ever written in the English language.

Every school child in America and many throughout the world knows by heart those few words on liberty and human ideals before they reach the eighth grade.

The speech is more widely quoted than any other speech ever made.

Thus Gettysburg has become famous because of a simple talk presented by a simple man, President Abraham Lincoln, at the dedication of the National cemetery here, John D. Lippy, Jr., manager of the Lincoln room in the Whits house, and a student of Lincoln's life, told members of the Gettysburg Rotary club Monday night at the Rotarians regular meeting in the YWCA.

Life of Service

"Lincoln spent his life in service to his fellowman: he presented a philosophy that should be emulated today—of never allowing prejudices to rule him, but instead to study friend and foe in the light of their actions and thoughts and then acting out of knowledge instead of hate," Lippy said. "There have been more volumes written about the life of Lincoln than about any other man except Napoleon—some 7,000 books," Mr. Lippy declared, "and the Address he made at Gettysburg has been quoted more in the U. S. than any other written message, with the exception of the Bible."

The main speaker at the exercises here in 1863 was Edward Everett, outstanding orator of his day. To secure Everett's presence, the committee had postponed the opening of the National cemetery here from the originally planned October 23, 1863, until November 19, for Mr. Everett had said he could not prepare his oration in time.

Again, at the time of the ceremony, the program was held up a half hour until Everett arrived. He was president of Harvard and former ambassador to the Court of St. James, and he delivered 122 talks to raise $58,000 toward the purchase of President Washington's home, Mount Vernon.

LIBRARY PLANS LINCOLN ALCOVE

An appeal was made today, appropriately on the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, for more material for the Adams County Free Library on the great emancipator, the Gettysburg battlefield, and the National cemetery.

"I am interested in building up our collection on Lincoln, the Civil War, Adams county and Gettysburg," said Miss Kathryn Oller, librarian. "A great many visitors go through town, and expect to find material of that sort here," she added. "Also, inquiries come from all over the country with regards to the battle, the National cemetery, etc."

Some items which the library has already received include the following: "Story of the Life of Lincoln," by Whipple; "Myths after Lincoln," by Lewis; "Gettysburg," by Storrick; two volumes of "Pennsylvania at Gettysburg," history of Cumberland and Adams counties; report of the committee relative to the soldiers' National cemetery; "Lincoln," by Raymond; "Lincoln," by Tarbell, and Rupp's history and topography of Dauphin, Cumberland, Franklin, Bedford, Adams and Perry counties.

"This list does not include all the historical items that we have," Miss Oller said, "but it gives an indication of the type of material we want. All sorts of pamphlet material on Gettysburg and vicinity would be desirable too. The National Park commission has furnished us with some."

JAMES J. DAVIS URGES DOCTRINE OF LINCOLN FOR TODAY'S STRIFE

Asserting that the present labor difficulties are much like those following the first World War, James J. Davis, former U. S. senator and U. S. Secretary of Labor, in a speech here Monday night called for recognition of the public interest as paramount by all contending parties as a solution for the current labor troubles.

He termed the restrictive proposals put forth both by those who are anti-labor and those who are anti-capital as "a resort to compulsion and regimentation that is foreign to the American way of life, and which will be productive of no lasting benefit to the nation."

Davis, three times senator from Pennsylvania, was the speaker at the annual Lincoln's birthday program held by the Sons of Union Veterans. He spoke before an audience of over 100 gathered in the GAR rooms, East Middle street.

Cites Lincoln Doctrine

"Men the world over have come to appreciate the significance of the word 'Gettysburg' in the history of human freedom and in the development of this timeless nation," former Senator Davis said. David Lloyd George, famous English statesman, was "an eager student of Gettysburg, for to his mind, no other single battle played such a vital role in shaping the destinies of men," he pointed out.

"The situation in which the world now finds itself is not greatly unlike the situation in which this nation found itself at the close of the Civil War," Davis declared, "Mistrust, fear and misgivings about the future are evident on every hand. The voices of retribution and dissension (Please Turn to Page 6)

DECISION NEAR ON FUTURE OF TEEN-CANTEEN

Unless there is more interest shown by local organizations and parents the Youth Center on Baltimore street will close next Monday night.

Henry T. Bream, chairman of the town's Youth Council today announced that a meeting of representatives of all organizations in town and all parents, whether or not they have ever contributed to the upkeep of the center, will be held in the Teen-Canteen in the former Lincoln Trust building next Monday at 8 p. m.

If the attendance at that meeting is small the center will close due to the apparent lack of interest of the community in the work, Mr. Bream said.

Started 14 Months Ago

So far the canteen seems to have had a very useful place in the community, with from 80 to 100 youngsters of high school age crowding the establishment each Saturday night to dance, sing, read and write and generally have a good time in wholesome surroundings, the committee declared.

However the canteen is supported entirely by contributions from interested individuals and organizations and if there is little interest among the adults, the program cannot continue, it was stated.

Both those in favor of the establishment and those opposed to it were urged by the committee to attend the session next Monday night so that a decision can be reached concerning the continuation of the youth center.

Started 14 months ago in the Hill building on Chambersburg street the center soon outgrew those quarters and moved 10 months ago to its present location.

SCOUTS HONOR LINCOLN TODAY IN PILGRIMAGES

Members of the Boy Scouts of America who make pilgrimages today to statues of Abraham Lincoln will receive attendance awards in the form of small wall posters of the statue of "Lincoln the Orator" which graces the Pennsylvania state memorial on the battlefield.

For the past 12 years the Lincoln National Life Foundation has been encouraging scouts to make these annual pilgrimages to some Lincoln shrine on the day of the martyred president's birth. The statues depicted each year have fallen into a biographical sequence, and this year the Gettysburg Address is featured.

"The pictures which have been presented annually to scouts making the February 12 pilgrimage to some Lincoln statue have portrayed the life of the Emancipator in bronze, beginning with Paul Manish's study of Lincoln as a Hoosier youth," said Louis A. Warren, director of the foundation, in announcing this year's award.

7,000 Scouts To Make Pilgrimages

"It is very appropriate that this year the attendance award will be a picture of Lincoln which occupies a prominent place on the Pennsylvania state memorial at Gettysburg. It portrays Lincoln delivering his famous address."

The Gettysburg statue is by J. Otto Schweizer, Philadelphia. It was erected April 23, 1913, at a cost of $5,000. It is eight feet in height, and depicts Lincoln standing, one hand outstretched, and the other clasping a manuscript. Each Boy Scout award contains, in addition to the picture of the statue, a recognition seal. Between 7,000 and 8,000 scouts are expected to make pilgrimages today to various Lincoln statues.

Mr. Schweizer also designed statues of Pleasanton and Gregg on the same monument, the state memorial, as well as many other statues on the battlefield and one other Lincoln bronze which is placed in the Union club in Philadelphia.

Unusual Poem

The following poem, "Lincoln's Birthday," was penned by H. V. Hesselman, Washington, for today's anniversary. The first letter of each line, reading down, spells out "Lincoln's Birthday."

Land of the free and home of the brave,
It was through his efforts they rescued the slave;
None shall be better, none shall be worse;
Christianized lands wouldn't stand for the curse.
Oh, why should the spirit of mortal be proud,
Like a swift-flying meteor, a fast-flying cloud?
No one should rise to let others fall;
Surely this grieves the One, who died for us all.

Born in a humble home, hardships galore—
In such conditions, rose to the fore;
Rose to great heights, honored by all.
Took up the burdens, saw scenes that appall.
He lived a life sacrificed, good, kind and true,
Died by assassin's hand, bade earth adieu.
America missed him, but we know by his love,
Yielded his soul to the great God above.

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (P) — Supporters of former Senator John S. Rice said today they were prepared to offer Democratic party leaders meeting here Thursday a resolution endorsing him for governor.

Charles H. Gillian, former sheriff and now Franklin county chairman, said he tried to present the resolution at a regional meeting of Democratic leaders from 17 central Pennsylvania counties here yesterday, but was ruled out of order.

State Chairman J. Warren Mickle, who presided at the regional gathering, asserted that party rules prevented endorsing any candidates for state-wide office.

Gillian, who is leading a drive to name Rice for the gubernatorial post, said he has the backing of George Love, state committeeman from York county, and Fred Klunk, state committeeman from Adams county.

The boom for Rice was started by Democratic leaders of Franklin, Adams, York and Fulton counties, and the group said they had promises of support from other central Pennsylvania party leaders.

Another of the series of regional meetings called by Chairman Mickle is listed for reading today, with the next one scheduled at Hazleton, Feb. 18, in the afternoon and at Scranton the same night. Another will be held at Williamsport, Feb. 19.

F. AND M. FIVE MEETS BULLETS HERE TOMORROW

"Hen" Bream's Gettysburg college basketball team will attempt to hit the comeback trail Wednesday evening when Franklin and Marshall will be met on the college court in a non-conference game.

The Bullets, who two weeks ago were among the nation's unbeaten teams, have dropped three of their last four engagements.

Last month the locals whipped the Diplomats 49-41 at Lancaster but despite that triumph are anticipating a stiff battle in the coming contest.

In recent games the Bullets have been considerably below par in their goal-shooting performance and unless that can be corrected the Diplomats may prove extremely troublesome.

As a preliminary game the Lutheran Theological seminary quintet will meet the Bullet reserves at 7 o'clock. The college jayvees have triumphed in two tilts played while the seminarians will be engaging in their first game.

No reserved seats will be sold for Wednesday's games.

Following the F. and M. encounter the Bullets will meet Lafayette here Saturday night. The Leopards halted the eight-game winning streak of the Bullets at Easton on January 26 with a 59-54 victory.

BEAVER SEASON OPENS FRIDAY

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—There's enough money in trapping beavers—and a meal besides for people who want to try a new dish.

Pelt prices "are high enough to justify the time and effort expended in trapping," even though one person may take only two beavers in the season opening at 1 a. m. Friday and closing at noon March 1, the state Game Commission announced.

And, passing along the word from trappers who have tried it, the commission said beaver meat, if properly cooked, makes a tasty dish. It couldn't say, however, how you should cook it.

Indians used to eat beaver meat, said Harold Plasterer, chief clerk in the bounty division, and he's known some people who have tried it—but weren't anxious to repeat. The animals are vegetarians but some of their food—quaking aspen, for instance—imparts an odor to the meat. So do the musk glands, he added.

Trapping Regulations
The commission listed these trapping regulations:

Trapping is not permitted where dams are posted by the commission. One person may set, tend or operate 10 traps only.

Traps must not be placed closer than 15 feet from the water line on any established beaver house.

Trappers must keep tags above ice or water line to facilitate identification without disturbing traps.

Pelts must be tagged within ten days after season and may not be sold or otherwise disposed of until properly tagged.

Trapped animals which are not in season, such as muskrats, must be turned in to a game protector.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—Although a search by the garden publicity department last week turned up something like 80 "eligibles" for the New York Invitation tournament, you can look for North Carolina and NYU to head the list of bids.

The Tar Heels are the only team to knock off NYU and Navy so far and the job the Violets did on Notre Dame Saturday was a masterpiece.

Barney Ross is leaving Chicago and will move to New York after he does a refereeing chore in Seattle.

Barney hopes to land a radio broadcasting job or to open a liquor store.

It's going to cost the Tigers plenty of dough this year if they play Hank Greenberg and Hal Newhouse what they're asking—and the fact that Dick Wakefield signed for $45,000 won't make the dickering any easier.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

When Elmer Ripley, Notre Dame coach, got a letter from four wounded marines asking how they could buy tickets to last Saturday's Notre Dame-NYU basketball game,

Rip not only donated them at considerable effort, but paid for them himself and invited the boys to be his guests.

Featherweight Champ Willie Pep was slightly confused on meeting Howie Odell and Red Rolfe, Yale coaches, recently when they asked almost simultaneously: "Do you study movies of your opponents?"

The Eli film addicts were equally amazed when Willie said "no." . . . Frank "Muscles" Stranahan carries a set of weights around the golf circuit and practices lifting them after his daily rounds.

Frank once lifted 270 pounds but he can't break 270 for 72 holes—at least not often.

CLEANING THE CUFF

Marcel Hansenne, the French miler, suffered a pair of badly blistered feet during his early workouts after reaching the United States but didn't say anything because he didn't want to admit.

So that's what has made Marcel waver. . . . Earl Brown, merchant marine academy coach, is reported to be dickering with Canisius about basketball but he'd prefer a sport where he can have football, too.

MIZE BOLSTERS GIANTS' ROSTER

By JOE REICHLER

New York, Feb. 12 (AP)—Big John Mize, who cost the New York Giants $50,000 in addition to three players back in 1941, but joined the navy after playing only one year with his new club, is about ready to pay dividends to President Horace Stoneham.

One of the first arrivals at the Miami, Fla., spring training camp, Mize declared he was the "best shape in his life." Already pared down to his normal playing weight of 205 pounds, the former Cardinal gave an indication yesterday of what he may mean to the Giants this season by lurching for 400 feet the first ball served him.

Other pre-war Giants among the squad of 51 already in camp include Pitcher Hal Schumacher and Infielder Dick Bartell, stars of the 1936 and '37 pennant winning clubs. Outfielder Babe Young and Second Baseman Nick Witke, Mize, Witke, Bartell and Billy Rigney, a likely looking shortstop for whom the Giants paid $25,000 two years ago, although still in the navy at the time, comprised the "regular" infield in yesterday's practice session.

Other news along the baseball front:

St. Louis Cardinals—Shortstop Marty Marion announced that while he did not class himself as a hold-out, he wants more money. "I don't like the terms of the contract offered me by Mr. Bredon (Sam Bredon, president of the Cardinals) and I told him so," Marion said yesterday. "But I'm sure we'll get together."

Boston Red Sox—Pitcher Tex Hughson became the 39th player in the fold when he signed his contract, leaving only 12 unsigned. General Manager Eddie Collins identified infielders Johnny Pesky, Bobby Doerr, Rudy York, Al Frazier, Outfielder Dom DiMaggio and Pitcher Emmett O'Neill as five of the unsigned.

RECEIVES DISCHARGE

Sgt. Robert L. Bosserman, York Springs, was discharged from the army February 1 at Camp Chaffee, Arkansas. He served 15 months as a member of the 62nd AAA Brigade, Camp Stewart, Ga.; 13 months as administrative cadre with Hq. IRTC, Camp Gordon, Ga., and two months as section chief, supply division, Hq. IRTC, Camp Robinson, Ark.

EAST BERLIN TO ENTER CLASS B PIAA PLAYOFFS

As champions of the Adams County Scholastic Basketball league, the East Berlin high boys will enter the Class B PIAA playoffs next month.

The lower countians have won 14 of 16 games this season, nine out of nine being in county league competition. To date the team has scored 621 points while yielding 423 to its opponents.

Other scoring has been done as follows: Clarence Poe, center, 6' 2", another senior, 94; Bill Altland, forward, 6' 1", a junior, 92; Roy Chronister, guard, 5' 8", senior, 96; "Archie" Himes, guard, 5' 8", senior, 23; Johnny Gordon, forward, 5' 7", senior, 18; Glenn Mummert, forward, 5' 6", junior, 24; Charles Altland, senior, 5' 7", 2; Fred Myers, center, 6' junior, 2; and Bruce Anderson, senior, 5' 7", senior, 0.

The East Berlin boys still must meet Littlestown, Red Lion and Dallastown before concluding their season at the latter place on February 22.

E. J. Kopp, former Red Lion high school athlete and former varsity baseball pitcher at Gettysburg, is coach of the county champions.

Martin Alleman, a returned GI, is the team's manager.

PURSE HELD UP BY COMMISSION IN FOX BATTLE

By SID FEDER

Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—Light-heavyweight Champion Gus Lesnevich was considering seriously today a fancy offer to defend his crown against Belting Billy Fox, while the Pennsylvania state athletic commission accused Billy's 37th—and latest—straight knockout victim of "quitting cold" to the young kayo specialist.

The offer of a flat $30,000 for Gus if he turns back Fox's challenge and $50,000 if Billy should take the bauble away from him was made last night after Billy flattened the veteran Nate Bolden in 40 seconds of the second round of what started out as a ten-round bout.

Lesnevich's manager, Little Joe Vella, said he was paying attention to the bid for a title tussle in convention hall here in April simply because "the way that guy punches, it may be best if we take him in now instead of waiting until he learns too much about boxing."

The offer was made by Blinky Palermo, Fox's manager, and matchmaker Pete Moran.

Criticizes Fight

Meantime, State Commission Chairman Leon Rains levelled the "quitting" charge at Bolden for the manner in which he climbed on his bicycle through the first round last night, although bloodying Billy's nose with flicking jabs, and bowed out in the second after being hit with a right hand high on the head, a considerable distance from the usually vulnerable areas around the chin. Bolden, himself, said a left hook to the tummy, just before the right, hurt him so badly he had to go down. Fox weighed 170; Bolden 175½.

Rains wanted it clearly understood that he had no criticism of Billy's performance, and he turned up in the 20-year old negro's dressing room to congratulate him.

Even while the near sellout crowd of 8,177 in the arena was still booing last night as Bolden's exit—he made an elaborate gesture of getting to his knees at "seven" then fell on his face to await ten—Rains ordered the mid-western negro's purse held up pending a hearing Friday.

HE'LL LEARN
Dallas, (AP)—The Dallas zoo is having trouble with its baboon, which doesn't have sense enough to come in out of the cold.

The baboon has a nice warm little house and swinging doors that permit him to go outside when he pleases. During a recent cold spell he chose to stay outside a little too long.

Now city purchasing agent Blain P. Tysert has a veterinarian's bill to pay for treating the baboon's frost-bitten tail.

Lead Increased In Mosconi Match

Perth Amboy, N. J., Feb. 12 (AP)—Willie Mosconi, of Barrington, N. J., world pocket billiard champion, won two more games from challenger Jimmy Caras, of Wilmington, Del., here yesterday and ran his lead to 1,708 and 1,147.

The champ won the afternoon block 125-34, and the night match, 125-30.

MOVE STARTED TO REORGANIZE COUNTY LEAGUE

A movement to reorganize the Adams County Baseball league, a casualty of World War II, has begun and a meeting is expected to be held the latter part of this month to start plans.

Baseball teams at Orrtanna and Arendtsville are backing the formation of the league and are set to enter teams.

It is understood a number of other county teams are interested in the formation of a loop and there is likelihood that six or eight and possibly 10 teams will be ready to hook up with the proposed circuit.

Gettysburg's status in entering a team is uncertain. Johnny Ridinger, who managed the local entry in the last county loop season, is now residing in Chambersburg and consequently would be unavailable for a managerial role.

Vets Available

With hundreds of returned veterans again available for baseball there is little doubt a comparatively fast league can be organized. Many former county stars played with service teams and are anxious to continue their diamond play.

Teams interested in entering the circuit are requested to contact George Burgner, East Stevens street, who was secretary of the league at the time it was discontinued.

The time and place for the reorganization will be announced later.

INTERSTATE TO OPEN ON MAY 1

Sunbury, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—A 140-game schedule, opening May 1 and closing September 8, faces the eight clubs in the Interstate Baseball League for the 1946 season.

Representatives of the loop's eight clubs—Sunbury, Trenton, Lancaster, Wilmington, Harrisburg, York, Allentown and Hagerstown, adopted the schedule at a meeting here yesterday.

The league also voted to:

(1) Play the annual all-star game August 5.

(2) Accept formally the re-entry of Harrisburg and Sunbury after a wartime recess.

(3) Order the purchase of a new trophy cup for the pennant winner.

President Arthur H. Ehlers, of Baltimore, said the site of the all-star game will be the city whose team is in first place August 4. Rains will advance the tilt to August 6.

Managers of the eight clubs will select the two all-star rosters and the managers for each.

The new trophy will be known as the Harold G. Hoffman cup in honor of the league's first president, the former governor of New Jersey.

Lancaster Got Cup
Lancaster, by virtue of 3 championships in as many years, acquired permanent possession of the previous trophy.

The new cup, properly inscribed with each year's tidbit, will be awarded on a yearly basis. As it goes to the newest pennant-holder, a replica will be left in its place for the previous winner.

The league decided on this opening day schedule:

Sunbury at Trenton; Lancaster at Wilmington; Harrisburg at York; Allentown at Hagerstown.

After a two-day stand, the clubs will line up this way:

Trenton at Lancaster; Wilmington at Allentown; York at Sunbury; Hagerstown at Harrisburg.

SET DATES FOR CLASS A AND B CAGE PLAYOFFS

District Three PIAA committee decided to enter seven teams in the Class A playoffs and set dates for Class A and Class B high school basketball playoffs meeting Monday afternoon and evening at Steelton.

The opening round of the Class A playoffs will be on March 8, the second round on March 12 and the finals on March 15.

The initial Class B team playoffs will be on March 6, the second on March 9 and the third on March 13. The finals will be on either March 15 or 16, it was announced Monday night by Secretary E. U. Balsbaugh, of Steelton.

Teams who will enter the Class A playoffs will be the winners of the York county Class A league, Lancaster county Class A league, Dauphin county Class A league, Berks county Class A league, and the southern and northern divisions of the Southern Pennsylvania Conference.

District Seats Over
A meeting of South Penn league officials is expected to be held in the near future following action of the District 3 officials last Monday evening. In the present setup the district will operate the playoff between the northern and southern division leaders, taking a 40 per cent cut of the gate receipts. Heretofore, the league operated the inter-division playoff. Also under present plans it is possible that the league may not stage a championship game. If that plan is followed winners of the divisions may enter directly into District 3 eliminations but it is probable in that event the district committee would pit the division titlists together in the opening round.

In the Class B competitions will be the winners of the Adams county Class B league, York county Class B league, Suburban league, Franklin county Class B league, two teams from Berks county Class B league, Twin-County league and Perry county league.

Meet February 21
The sites for the playoffs will be picked at a meeting of the District Three PIAA committee to be held on February 21. A total of 40 members and guests from 20 schools attended the dinner meeting Monday.

James Neely, of Lancaster high school, is chairman, and E. U. Balsbaugh, principal of Steelton high school, is secretary. Paul Hummel, of York high school, is treasurer. Other members of the committee are: Karl W. Eshelby, of Lemoyne; Prof. Eugene Miller, of Edison Junior high school, and Paul Yelting, of Lebanon high school.

Elmer Gruver and Charles R. Phillips represented East Berlin high school, and Class B county champions, at the meeting. Prof. Guile W. Lefever and William Whiteley represented Gettysburg and Arendtsville high schools respectively.

Delone Dribblers Play Here Tonight

Tonight the Gettysburg and Delone Catholic high quintets will meet on the local floor at 8 o'clock.

In spite of a previous victory scored at McSherrytown, the Maroons are looking forward to a stiff engagement. Coach Jake Dracha's boys have shown a world of improvement in recent games and would like nothing better than to upset Gettysburg.

At 7 o'clock the reserve teams will clash.

Another large crowd is anticipated inasmuch as a number of Delone fans plan to accompany their teams here.

Look To Joe Bell To Help Hershey

(By The Associated Press)
Cleveland's Barons will attempt to increase their third place Western Division margin to seven points when they engage the tall end St. Louis Flyers at St. Louis in tonight's only scheduled American Hockey League contest.

Joe Bell, purchased by Hershey from New Haven before the circuit's playing trading deadline went into effect at midnight Sunday, may add the second place Eastern Division Bears who won only two of their last 11 games.

The Bears are 12 points behind the front running Buffalo Bisons and ten ahead of the third place Providence Reds. In 44 games with the cellar dwelling Eagles, Bell notched 33 counters and 18 assists.

Flashes Of Life
OPEN SESAME

Austin, Minn., (AP)—Butter worked as a fine salve for banker George Reppesav and cafe owner George Kokalaris during a trip to Florida.

When hotel clerks said, "no room," the travelers casually mentioned the 50 pounds of butter they had brought with them, adding, "we might spare a bit."

The Minnesotans reported butter was the "open sesame" in every hotel visited.

COMPLICATED OR SIMPLE?
St. Louis, (AP)—James P. Finnegan, internal revenue collector, is confused, he admits.

"This is the way I see it," says Finnegan. "The simplified federal income tax form is one of the most complicated I have ever seen and the so-called regular (complicated) form is one of the most simple."

To prove his point:
Forty-eight clerks are far behind processing simplified return forms: 19 clerks are managing very well with the complicated version.

CLEAN SWEEP
Chicago, (AP)—Ray N. Chadwick went to the Kensington police station to report that burglars had broken into his home and had stolen two pistols, as well as several other articles.

"You ought to get a watchdog," suggested Sgt. Thomas Dennis.

"I had one," Chadwick replied. "They stole her, too."

ON LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY
Who for his words of wisdom looks
Will find them treasured in the books,
For Lincoln's eloquence sublime
Served the great issue of his time.
Against the house divided, then
He pleaded with his fellowmen.
Now, who will plead the self-same way
Against the broken house today?

Behind what clear, far sighted eye
Does Lincoln's gentle patience lie?
And for the heavy, grievous load
On whom was Lincoln's strength bestowed?

Great men may leave their words
behind
For all who follow them to find.
But the world waits for many a day
For one stout heart to lead the way.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
DAMPENING THE HUMAN SPIRIT

Nothing is simpler or easier than to give a kind word to one who needs it, or to give a mental or spiritual boost to one who is lacking in faith or courage. Often this lift is defeated, however, because of the method used to convey it.
We all know the reaction that follows the correction of a child,
that starts with a scold. The spirit of that child is injured and its dignity rudely assaulted. An intelligent and kindly correction, in words that encourage the child to see its error, wins the child. Dampening its spirit defeats all efforts at correction.

These strikes and strife between capital and labor, that are so prevalent right now, are dampening the spirit of true democracy in the world, and a just solution should be found before both sides fail. The sooner capital comes to the conclusion that labor is its partner, entitled to a just share in its profits,
the sooner there will be industrial peace, and a lasting one. Labor's spirit is only dampened, and its will
to efficiently achieve lowered, by any other method.

I have never yet heard of anyone who did not welcome encouragement and appreciation. Neither has ever yet been known to dampen effort!

Even in the animal world, note
how that good friend to man, the dog, creeps off with his tail behind his legs at a rude correction,
rather than that friendly wag so familiar to every lover of a dog.
Dampen his spirit and you injure
his dog heart.

How very grievously man has erred in this beautiful world, created for his happiness and his comfort. Beauty all about him, but in the midst of selfishness, greed, strife, and war, Courageous he is in meeting his sorrows, privations and his disappointments, but how his spirit is dampened by forces that would cheat him of his just share of joy and of his chance for a decent living.

What responsibilities, and what opportunities lie before that group of men and women now meeting in London. It is not too early to state that the fate of the world rests upon their decisions. Their wrong decisions can easily dampen "the last best hope of earth."

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Wealth."

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the

The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Lincoln's Birthday: The local camp of the Sons of Veterans celebrated Lincoln's birthday on Wednesday with appropriate exercises in their hall. Dr. Henry Stewart was master of ceremonies. Miss Margaret McMillan pleased her hearers with a well rendered selection. An address on Lincoln was delivered by William Hersh and Capt. Jas. T. Long gave some reminiscences of the war and recited Lincoln's Gettysburg oration.
Songs and music made up the evening's entertainment. Refreshments were served by the Ladies' Aid Society. The members of the S. of V.
Band, which made its first appearance are:

A. J. Holtzworth, Harry Flemming,
George Shields, Huber Miller, Morris Miller, Herman Mertz, J. C.
Wierman, William Gilbert, William
M. Tawney and David Wallace.

Surprise Party: On the 11th inst.,
a surprise party was held in honor of Mrs. Peter Culp. Those present were William Sheads and wife, John Hamilton and wife, J. Rowe and wife, Samuel Steiner and wife, James Bumbaugh, Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs.
Taughnbaugh, Mrs. Cornelius Aumen, Mrs. Schriver, Mrs. Mertz,
Mrs. Edward Strickhouser, Mrs.
Bailey, Mrs. Daugherty, Mrs. Harry Kaibfesh, Misses Annie Aumen,
Annie Mummert, Virginia Schaffer,
Alma Sheads, George Hoffman,
Mamie Rowe and Carrie Hamilton.

Marriages: Monn-Cullison, Feb. 4,
at Bendersville, by Rev. Geo. W.
Hoffman, Harry Monn to Miss Annie E. Cullison, both of Franklin township.

Witherow-Guinn: Feb. 12, at Green Mount, by Rev. W. J. Stewart,
Robert C. Witherow, to Miss Elsie
E. Guinn, both of Cumberland township.

Stephens-Starnor: Feb. 6, at Zet-ter Springs, by Rev. J. E. Zenger, Harry T. Stephens, of Tyrone township, to Miss Irene F. Starnor, of Huntington township.

Mr. Keith's Funeral: The funeral of the late Rev. W. H. Keith was held on Friday. Services, conducted by Perseverance Lodge, of Harrisburg, were held in the lodge room
of Good Samaritan Lodge. The services at the house were conducted by Presiding Elder Evans, the Rev. W. A.
Carver, the pallbearers were W. H.
Tipton, Daniel A. Skelly and the Rev. T. P. Ege, of this place, and Charles E. Yohe, John Kirk and Henry C. Orth, of Harrisburg. The body was attended by Mr. Keith's body servant, who was with him all through the war. The interment was at New Oxford, whither the friends were taken on a special train.

Local Miscellany: An entertainment and bean soup will be given in the Carlisle G.A.R. Post Room,
on the evening of Feb. 17, 1896. Ten cents admission will be charged, including bean soup.
Last week all the conditions were favorable to a repetition of the February blizzard of 1895, except the low temperature. The rain came in abundance and the high wind followed. Had the precipitation been snow instead of rain another railroad block would surely have resulted. But little damage was done in this county by high waters.

Charles E. Myers was pretty badly burned on Sunday afternoon. He was heating water with a gasoline
torch when it exploded and burned
his left hand, his nose and ears.
Attention was given by Dr. Henry Stewart.

Sales: J. Edward McCammon has sold to Collins E. Spangler the Mc-Cammon homestead property on Carlisle street and has bought from Mr. Spangler the property on the same street, recently purchased from the Rev. R. H. Clare. Sales made through Martin Winter's agency. Mr. McCammon has bought from Martin Winter a lot of ground on Lincoln avenue at $10.00 per front foot, on which he will erect a dwelling house.

Death's Doings: James Pierce, the oldest citizen of Gettysburg, departed this life on Wednesday, February 5th, in the 90th year of his age at his old home in this place.
As a mere lad he came from Baltimore to Gettysburg, an utter stranger and possessed of but one small coin and a small bundle. In his more vigorous day he was engaged in butchering and mercantile pursuits; and by industry and economy
accumulated considerable property.
His experience at the Battle of Gettysburg was varied and thrilling.
He is about the last of a former generation to depart.

Grandfather Pierce was for many years a faithful and consistent member of the M. E. church; and at different times held official relations in the sanctuary. In recent years much of his time was spent in reading the Bible and in communing with his God.
Mr. Pierce was married to Miss Margaret Ann McCurdy, an aunt of Judge Swope. He leaves to survive him two sons, James Shaw
and William H., of Washington, D. C., and one daughter, Tillie, the wife of Horace Allenman, Esq., of Selin's Grove.

GUARD UNITS WILL RETURN TO HOME BASES

By ALLAN CRIST
Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (P)—Return of Pennsylvania's four battle-seasoned doughboy regiments to the home
bases they occupied between two world wars has been decided upon as one move in reestablishment of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

Making a tentative allocation of these and other Keystone State units
to communities throughout the Commonwealth, Brig. Gen. E. J.
Stackpole, Jr., announced that first priority has been given to reorganization of these outfits with a total strength of 26,241 officers and men: 28th Division (which would include three of the infantry regiments), 12,864; one infantry combat team (with the fourth infantry regiment as a nucleus), 3,586; air forces (fighter and supporting units), 2,948;
anti-aircraft brigade, 6,843.

Fought In Pacific
The three infantry regiments which remained in the "Bloody Bucket" division after its transformation from "square" to "triangular" organization were the 109th, 110th and 111th, southwestern Pennsylvania, and 112th, northwestern Pennsylvania. The 111th, from the Philadelphia region, fought separately in the Pacific.

A group of general officers and regimental commanders, soon to be appointed by Governor Martin, will spend the next two months in "localized studies and analyses" to determine just where each company
or other element of these four regiments, and other first-priority outfits, is to be located, Stackpole said.
Field Artillery and other elements
of the division and attached troops will so far as possible be organized in their historic localities," he stated.
Battalions of the anti-aircraft brigade, successor to the pre-war 213th Coast Artillery (anti-aircraft), from Eastern Pennsylvania, "will be spotted to protect vital strategic targets which might be regarded as initial objectives for hostile aircraft," Stackpole added.

Plan New Division
"Other units including the air
squadrons will be located in accordance with an integrated plan in line with the program of the army air forces for the defense of the United States."

Plans for an additional division,
infantry or armored, have been held in abeyance for the present, Stackpole said. This division would bring the Pennsylvania National Guard's total strength to 39,580 officers and men.

Pending Congress' action on a national defense program, the recruiting, organization, and training
phase of the reorganization program has been scheduled to begin "any time after June 1."

Special Elections To Fill Vacancies

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (P)—Special elections will be held at the May 21
primary to fill four vacancies in the State Senate.

Gov. John C. Bell said voters will fill the terms vacated by the resignations of Senators William
T. Troutman (R-Northumberland);
Wallace Gourley (D-Washington);
and John P. Fox (D-Allegheny county), to become Judges and the death of Franklin S. Edmonds (R-Montgomery).

Hanover Man Quits Highway Position

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (P)—Edgar J.
Masmer, of Hanover, assistant maintenance superintendent in the New York district at an annual salary of $2,550 has resigned from the highway department, Secretary John
U. Shroyer announced yesterday.

H. Homan and Murray M. Sheads
are the guests of C. E. Aughinbaugh in Harrisburg.

Mrs. Walhay, of Bendersville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Wm. P.
Quimby.

Miss Lula Wire, of Littlestown, is endeavoring to organize a class at Taneytown for the study of art.
Miss Dora Chapman and Miss Mary Winebrenner have returned from their visit to Reading.

John C. Lower, who has been ill at the Hotel Gettysburg for the last four weeks, has recovered sufficiently to be down stairs. His friends now expect a speedy restoration to health and strength.

First Steps With Cabbage
The cabbage grower's chief tasks
consist of measures to prevent common diseases. From wild plants the cabbage crop has been developed into the cabbage of garden fame,
broccoli, collards, kale, Brussels sprouts and kohlrabi. Besides these there are several closely related domesticated and wild plants, such as turnips, rutabagas, rape, charlock,
peppergrass and shepherds-purse.
Thus there are numerous host plants
from which diseases may easily spread to cultivated cabbage.

Seed for extra early plants should be sown under glass in early February and the tiny seedlings shifted to roomier frames or to individual pots or bands to develop growth in a coldframe until soil and weather conditions permit final transplan-tation to the growing site. Of course, cabbage withstands light frosts
without injury, hence plants may be moved to the garden ahead of the more tender vegetables by several weeks.

Black-rot and blackleg are two widely prevalent diseases of cabbage known to be transmitted from year to year on the seed. And it is probable that other troublesome ills are either carried on the seed or beneath the seed coating. To prevent these dangers from being passed on to the new crop, every grower
should practice careful seed disinfection.

The hot-water method of disinfection is recommended to curb both types of seed-borne diseases, although old or weak seed may be severely injured by this treatment.
It is wise, therefore, to treat a small batch of seed and then test a few of them for germination. The mer-curic chloride method is safer and is effective against black-rot and blackleg, but does not destroy disease organisms buried beneath the seed coat. It is important to remember that cabbage yellows is soil-borne and cannot be controlled by disinfection of seed or any other combat method.

The hot-water treatment is practiced by placing the seed in a loose cheesecloth bag and submerging it for 15 to 30 minutes, preferably 25 minutes, in water held exactly at 122 degrees. If a large container of water is used, the temperature will remain more constant. A small quantity of hotter water may be added as needed to maintain the advised temperature level, as determined by use of an accurate thermometer.

To treat seed by the mercuric
chloride (corrosive sublimate) method, seed is placed in a loose cheesecloth bag and soaked in a 1:1000 solution for 25 minutes. It is then washed in cold running water for 15 minutes before it is spread in the sun to dry. This strength solution is prepared by dissolving one large tablet in a pint of water. Mix and handle this solution only in glass or earthenware containers, never in metal. Stir with a wooden or glass paddle. Mercuric chloride is a deadly poison and should be handled accordingly. However, no dangers are transmitted to the growing crop.

RUSSIA CLAMPS ON CONDITIONS

Washington, Feb. 12 (P)—Russia clamped three conditions, including outright Soviet possession of the Kurile islands, on its agreement at Yalta one year ago Monday to enter the Pacific war.

This conditional aspect of Generalissimo Stalin's pledge to fight Japan was disclosed when the text of the long-secret Big Three pact on the far east was made public today in Washington, London and Moscow.

Secretary of State Byrnes reportedly has insisted it is the last of the wartime arrangements of its kind withheld from publication.
Yalta secrets previously bared promised Russia Anglo-American support for the big power veto in the United Nations Security Council and for separate United Nations

Baltimore Livestock

CATTLE—Receipts at the opening of this week just about half the supply offered last week. Bad conditions caused by a heavy snowstorm which curtailed incoming receipts. Despite light receipts, trading in general slow and outside demand needed to clear the day's slaughter steer supply. All slaughter classes steady with the close of last week.

In the steer division, two loads of top-grade and choice fed steers around 1,160 lbs., $17.60, day's top, with a few loads and lots $16.75-17.35. Low and average-grade short-fed steers, $15.50-16.50. A few odd head of medium-grade steers, $13.50-15. Top-grade fed heifers, $15.50, with low and average-grade short-fed, $14.00-15. Common and medium grades, mostly dairy-bred arrivals, $10.50-13.60.

Cow trading carried a weak undertone and, should receipts be normal, it was evident that prices would have been lower, as buyers determined to buy cows within compliance limits, but meager receipts and broad demand kept prices steady with last week's close. All interests competed for the day's cow receipts. Common and medium cows, largely $10-13 with high-yielding individuals, $13.50-14. Canners and cutters, $7.60-9.50, with strongweights canners $8 up. Good beef bulls absent. Good weighty sausage beef, $12.50-13, with cutters, common and medium grades $10-12.

CALVES—Vealers and weighty slaughter receipts also curtailed. Demand broad, creating an active market, with prices unchanged from the close of last week. Mixed lots of good and choice fed, vealers, $15.50, mainly $16.50. Common and medium grades, $9.50-14.50, with most sales starting at $11. Culls around $7.50, with some lightweight to $5. Good weighty slaughter calves, $14, with common and medium grades, $10-13.

HOGS—All interests competed for the available hog supply, rather light, thus trading very active. Prices unchanged from last week's close. Demand broad, creating an active market, with prices unchanged from the close of last week. Mixed lots of good and choice fed, vealers, $15.50, mainly $16.50. Common and medium grades, $9.50-14.50, with most sales starting at $11. Culls around $7.50, with some lightweight to $5. Good weighty slaughter calves, $14, with common and medium grades, $10-13.

SHEEP—Slaughter lambs active and steady with last week's close. The practical top, $16.50. Good and choice fed, wooled lambs, usually around 90 lbs., $16-16.50. Common and medium grades, $12-15, and lambs around $9. Slaughter ewes active and steady. Choice lightweight wooled and shorn ewes, $7. The bulk of the receipts, common to good, $5.50-6.50, according to grade.

LINCOLN TALK CHALFANT SAYS

unfamiliarity, and compared that with Lincoln's address which is known to nearly everyone in America and Europe.

Lippy traced the life of Lincoln from his birth, through his early life when he showed great interest in reading, particularly the Bible and his tribute to his mother: "All that I am or hope to be I owe to my mother," upon her death.

"Lincoln was greatly disappointed in Meade after the battle of Gettysburg," Lippy said, "believing that if Meade had moved after the Confederate troops from Gettysburg he could have cut off Lee's forces and ended the Civil War in 1863."

Much of Lippy's address was devoted to a description of Lincoln. Mr. Lippy also described the scene at the cemetery where Lincoln spoke from a 40 foot platform facing away from the cemetery so that the crowd would not trample the freshly placed graves.

Following the talk the Rotarians were guests of Mr. Lippy at the Lincoln room in the Wills building. President James Cairns presided at the meeting with 45 members and guests present.

either of them did it."

"Hope made a disgusted noise in her throat. 'Are you growing scruples at this late date?'"

Rush grinned. "No," he said, "these are just some old ones I had kicking around."

"Is that all you have to say?"

Rush stood up and looked down at her. "Yes, for now. When I get a murderer I'll talk to you. That's more important than the emeralds right now."

"Not to me," said Hope.

"It is to me. I'll live, and eat regularly, if I never see those green rocks, but if I don't turn up a killer I'll be up to my neck with everybody. Get me a fall guy and I'll help you get rid of the stones and maybe even help you spend the money. But first, I need a killer."

Hope stood up then. "Okay, that's the way it is," she said. "And maybe I can find your killer. What do you think of that?"

"I think you can, and I think it would be fine if you did. When do you start?"

BLOOD PLASMA CENTERS NAMED FOR FREE USE

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—Eight centers were established Monday for the distribution of 1,250,000 units of dried blood plasma, left over from World War II, among hospitals and physicians in all of Pennsylvania's 67 counties.

The initial issue of the plasma will be made this week, with another distribution to be made three months from now. The size of the second shipment will depend upon the rate of consumption, said an announcement of the state Health Department.

The centers and the areas they will serve include:

District 5—Department of Health, State capitol, Harrisburg; Dauphin, Lebanon, Lancaster, York, Adams, Franklin, Mifflin, Cumberland, Perry, Juniata, Snyder, Northumberland and Montour.

The yellow powder, recently declared surplus by the army and navy, has been made available for civilian use without cost for the plasma to the patient. It "will be invaluable in saving the lives of the injured and safeguarding the lives of those undergoing surgical operations," said Dr. Harry W. Weest, secretary of health.

Past President Of DAR Succumbs

Cooksburg, Pa., Feb. 12 (AP)—Mrs. Lora Haines Cook, 80, past president of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and widow of Anthony Wayne Cook, founder of Cook's forest state park, died Sunday at her home in this Clarion county community.

Funeral services will be held Thursday.

Born in Lloydsville, O., Mrs. Cook was active in numerous patriotic and educational organizations, and was a frequent contributor to newspapers and magazines.

President Coolidge appointed her a member of the Washington Bicentennial Commission. She was a member of the Valley Forge Park Commission, and of the board of directors of the Thomas Jefferson Foundation.

Mrs. Cook was national president general of the DAR from 1923 to 1926.

Surviving are a son, Anthony Wayne Cook, Jr., of Cooksburg; and two brothers, Dr. Franklin G. Haines, of Warren, Pa., and Frederick L. Haines, of Cambridge, Ohio.

Auto License Fees For 1945 Show Gain

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—Receipts from motor vehicle and operators license in the 1945 registration year totaled $32,966,442, a 4.9 per cent gain over the same period in 1944, the State Bureau of Motor Vehicles announced today.

The Bureau said in a report that registration of 2,067,893 motor vehicles from April 1 to December 31, 1945, was a 4.1 per cent increase over the corresponding period in the previous year.

LINCOLN, MAN OF DESTINY

The following poem was given The Gettysburg Times by William C. Storrick, local Lincoln student, for publication today, the 137th anniversary of the birth of the Great Emancipator:

Not with pomp or regal splendor
Came to earth that little child,
But amid the myriad voices
Of the woodlands, vast and wild—
Where amid the haunts of Nature
Angels whispered soft and low
As they marked the rugged pathway
Where his infant feet must go.

Mother love so pure and holy,
Fate, so bountiful and blest,
Meekly smiled upon his cradle—
Made his mission manifest—
Days of toil in field and forest,
Arduous tasks to clear the lands,
Poverty and want and sorrow,
Aching limbs and calloused hands.

Clean ambition blazed a pathway,
Courage roused his fervid soul,
And he faltered not at failure
As he strove to reach the goal.
Step by step he mounted higher,
Growing rich in wisdom's lore
As he studied Burns and Shakespeare—
Sprawled upon the cabin floor.

Governed by a humane passion,
Cautious, patient, free from guile,
Lincoln pondered every effort,
Trod each long and weary mile
In the light of faith and duty
And the clouds of racial passion
Were darkening all the land.

Trusting in the God of battles,
Lincoln manned the Ship of State
While a severed nation struggled Twixt grim war, rapine and hate.
Four long years our trusted pilot
Scanned the dark and sullen sea
For a ray of light resplendent
With the dawn of victory.

Lincoln, patriot, seer and prophet,
Thine was not a charted sphere
Where alluring peaks of glory
And enchanted isles appear,
But a vale where echoes linger
By the placid mountain streams
And the forest glades are haunted
By imperishable dreams.

Legion Stays Out Of Bradley Fracas

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—State Commander James P. Murray said today the Pennsylvania American Legion "is not making, nor joining in" any charges against Gen. Omar Bradley, head of the Veterans Administration.

"The American Legion in Pennsylvania has been and is receiving cooperation from Veterans Administration officials and employees serving Pennsylvania veterans in their hospitalization and processing of claims," Murray declared in a statement.

The Legion's National Commander, John Stelle, recently called for an immediate investigation of what he said was a "tragic breakdown" in the VA under Bradley.

COLONIAL SEEKS NEW AIR ROUTES

Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—Colonial Airlines, Inc., Monday announced plans for direct service linking important industrial and recreation centers in New York and New England with metropolitan and business communities in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, Ohio, Washington, D. C., and several points in Canada.

Spokesmen for the airline, one of 30 seeking certification of new routes and expansion of old ones in the Middle Atlantic area embracing some 50,000,000 persons at regional Civil Aeronautics Board hearings told a reporter the firm seeks new or extended routes between New York city and Washington serving Trenton and Atlantic City, N. J. Reading, Lancaster and Philadelphia, Penna.; Dover, Del., and Baltimore, Md.

Attorneys for Colonial said the airline proposes alternate schedules between New York city and Cincinnati, Ohio, that would provide service on certain schedules to Pittsburgh, Pa., and Akron, Youngstown, Springfield and Columbus, O.

"Natural Center"

Cincinnati is a "natural exchange center," attorneys asserted, and "a tremendous public interest will be served as traffic from southeastern Canada, New York and the Middle Atlantic states will have convenient interchanging facilities for the distribution of traffic to the south, the southwest and the west."

Colonial, spokesman said, seeks CAB certification for service between Ottawa and Montreal in Canada and the important industrial and metropolitan cities in New York, the Middle Atlantic states and Ohio.

Towns such as Watertown, Binghamton, Albany, Burlington, Glens Falls, Saratoga Springs, Massena, Syracuse and Rochester in New York; Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Reading, and Lancaster in Pennsylvania will be served by Colonial if CAB certifies proposed routes, attorneys said.

Says Strikes Hurt Production Of Crops

Harrisburg, Feb. 12 (AP)—Strikes have so "crippled" the output of farm machinery, a spokesman for the Pennsylvania cooperative potato growers' association maintains, that it will be impossible for farmers to raise the crops they had anticipated.

Hugh O. McPherson, of Bridgeport, newly elected president, said after a meeting of the group's board of directors here, yesterday that bigger victory gardens may provide the stop-gap in averting a food shortage in Pennsylvania.

He said victory gardens will be "more necessary this year than they were during the war."

Urges Removal Of Liquor Tax

Philadelphia, Feb. 12 (AP)—Laurence H. Eldridge, president of Pennsylvania's Alcoholic Beverage Study, Inc., says the Keystone state's 10 per cent liquor-sales tax should be repealed.

The Philadelphian, re-elected yesterday to the study post, asserted that persons "resent buying a bottle of liquor which, in effect, is one-third whiskey and two-thirds taxes."

He also urged removal of the Federal excise tax of $9 a proof gallon on liquor.

The group elected C. D'A. Bellin, Scranton; Dr. Elmer Hess, Erie; Donald Markle, Jeddo; Alexander P. Linsey and Thurston Wright, both of Pittsburgh, and Leroy Smith, Allentown, as directors.

AMVET POLICIES

Pittsburgh, Feb. 12 (AP)—Compulsory military training, a veterans' bonus and a World War II holiday were urged at a meeting here Sunday of representatives from 30 western Pennsylvania AMVETS posts. The veterans also announced their support of Omar N. Bradley as head of the Veterans Administration.

prattle noisily. The choirs of doom chant their inevitable dirges.

Asking that "we and our war-time Allies . . . accept the doctrine of Lincoln—with malice toward none and charity for all," Davis urged the United States to provide food for the children and women of Germany and other nations where people are starving. Declaring that "I do not believe we should adopt any kid glove policy toward Germany itself," he added that while the Nazis should be punished, Germany disarmed and its factories carefully watched, "it is not necessary that we adopt the methods and policies of the Nazis. We need not accept starvation or near-starvation as a policy in dealing with conquered peoples."

Should Aid UNO

He called upon the nation to do all possible to make the United Nations organization succeed and "to secure the mutual confidence and good will of all nations concerned."

Speaking of the wave of strikes that spread over the country after the first world war Davis said, "I well remember that at the close of the first World War we experienced a wave of strikes and industrial disturbances similar to that which is now gripping the nation. I was serving as U. S. Secretary of Labor during that time, so, of course, I was thrown into direct contact with the problem in its entirety."

"During that time, as now, there were demands on the part of some extremists that laws be passed to shackle labor. On the part of other extremists there were demands that laws be passed to shackle industry. By means of series of conferences between the leaders of labor, the leaders of industry and the leaders of government these strikes were settled and the nation went forward to the greatest era of prosperity that it has ever known."

Krug Unable To Attend

He urged study of the methods adopted in the Railway mediation act, as worthy of study as a solution for the present labor crisis. "Collective bargaining," he stated, "should remain the keystone of all industrial relationships."

William I. Shields, past commander of the local Sons of Union Veterans post, presided at the service with music provided by the St. James Lutheran Sunday school orchestra under the direction of Howard Gaines and Edwin Longenecker. William C. Storrick, who shook hands with President Lincoln when the martyred president was here in 1863 to dedicate the national cemetery, was introduced. George W. Krug, Kingsdale, only living Civil War veteran in the county was unable to attend as scheduled due to illness.

P. J. Krammerer, Newville, a Lincoln impersonator, read Lincoln's Gettysburg address with Mrs. Howard Hartzell and Clarence Nuss presenting "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" as background music. Mr. Nuss played the violin and Mrs. Hartzell the piano.

Miss Phyllis Schwartz and Mr. Nuss also presented a violin duet, "Angels' Voices" accompanied by Mrs. Hartzell at the piano. The Rev. H. V. March, pastor of the United Brethren church pronounced the benediction while Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, of the Lutheran Theological Seminary here, gave the invocation. Miss Lena Hartzell presented two flute solos, "The Alpine Shepherd" and "March Tannhauser," accompanied by Mrs. Hartzell.
